

Learning Series for 2018 recipients

- The Catalyst Fund is an award program to fund new ideas and innovative projects by LYRASIS members
- Applications are due February 20, 2020
- Recipients receive word in June and they have one year to complete their projects

If you are not already, become a LYRASIS member today! The C$F is only one benefit...

<https://www.lyrasis.org/membership/Pages/Become-a-Member.aspx>

Proposals are for funding to pilot your own project. You have one year to complete your project.

Ideas recommend an issue, problem, service need or solution that LYRASILS could investigate, test, and address for the library, archive and/or museum fields.

 UNIVERSITY of VIRGINIA Digital Collecting in Times of Crisis. $28,800	 UMASS BOSTON Online instruction for Participatory Archiving. $25,816	 THE UNIVERSITY OF UTAH® Machine learning meets library archives. $34,700
 DUQUESNE Quantitative Research Institute for Libraries. $16,310	 DEPAUL UNIVERSITY Data-Intensive Tools for Modeling and Visualizing Mass Reading. $24,352	 West Virginia University Access to US Congressional Correspondence Data. $27,000

Kara McClurken,
kmm6ef@virginia.edu